

Demonstration project to build a prediction model for the spread of mosquito-borne viruses by using AI technology and improve the forecast system UX for preventing dengue fever in Thailand

Project outcome / Future plans

Details of demonstration

During the project period, new predictors were examined in order to more accurately