
Contents

US Trade Policy	3
Implications of the 2020 Election for US Trade Policy: An Early Look at the Biden Administration’s Approach	3
Free Trade Agreements	21
United States and Ecuador Sign Bilateral Protocol on Trade Rules and Transparency

Implications of the 2020 Election for US Trade Policy: An Early Look at the Biden 5 Xa]b]gfUjcbDj 5 ddfc UW

ce Buy American. President-technology transfer, and agriculture that are valued by the US busines

Expiration of Trade Promotion Authority

Moreover, his stated strategy for responding to China's alleged unfair trade practices emphasizes partnering with like-minded countries to develop trade rules that reflect US priorities. Similar considerations motivated the original US effort to negotiate the TPP, and some of President-elect Biden's cabinet appointees are likely to be

Securing so

Democratic senators (including Sen. Bob Menendez (D-NJ), Ranking Member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee; and Sen. Ron Wyden (D-

Trade Remedies and Enforcement

Trade Personnel in the Biden Administration

President-elect Biden has announced his nominees for several of the cabinet and White House positions that will be responsible for formulating and implementing US trade policy. These include the United States Trade Representative (the lead US official responsible for t in technology, and the way that we communicate with each other in the way that we transact commerce,” as

United States to enter into force. House Ways and Means Committee Chairman Richard Neal (D-MA) has criticized

States for consumption, even if the good satisfies the applicable product-specific rule of origin set forth in An G[(a)32(p)8(p)8(l) in the omnibus legislation, as well as the limited time remaining on the congressional calendar, it appears unlikely that new MTB legislation will be enacted by the current Congress.

Next Steps

